RNS RHEUMATOLOGY NURSES SOCIETY™

20 YEARS 2007-2027

2027 PROSPECTUS

A MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Colleagues and Supporters,

As we look ahead to 2027, our 20th year as the Rheumatology Nurses Society, I'm proud of the momentum we've built and energized by what comes next. We honor the work and leadership that brought us here, while staying focused on what will carry RNS into the next 20 years: innovation, accessibility, and meaningful growth for the rheumatology nursing and advanced practice community.

In 2026, we deepened connection and community through our chapters. The RNS National Virtual Chapter continued to meet regularly, and we launched our National Pediatric Chapter, which now meets quarterly, creating a dedicated home for professionals caring for pediatric patients and strengthening collaboration across specialty focus areas.

We also expanded how we deliver education by listening closely to what our learners told us they needed: quick, easy access to disease state education that supports real world practice. In response, we launched Rheum Rundown Disease State Guides, designed to help busy clinicians get the information they need, when they need it.

And because learning shouldn't be limited to a desk, we introduced our podcast, Rheumor Has It, to reach our community in a new way, whether that's in the car on the way to work, between patients, or whenever time allows.

We also brought rheumatology nursing to Fort Lauderdale for our Annual Conference, and it was a resounding success, an energizing reminder of the power of this community when we come together to learn, connect, and move care forward.

In 2027, we're building on that foundation with a clear focus on the future. We're asking: What innovative new methods can we use to deliver education to rheumatology nurses and advanced practice providers? How can we make it easier to stay current, strengthen clinical confidence, and connect professionals across geographies and roles?

At the same time, we are prioritizing membership growth because a larger, more connected community means a stronger voice, richer peer to peer learning, and greater impact for the patients we all serve.

Thank you for being part of this mission and for the partnership that makes our work possible. I invite you to join us in 2027 as we celebrate this milestone year and as we shape what's next, together.

With gratitude,

Sadie Larson
Executive Director
Rheumatology Nurses Society

MISSION

The Rheumatology Nurses Society advances the knowledge, skill, and leadership of nurses across all scopes of practice in rheumatology, ensuring high-quality, patient-centered care through education, professional development, advocacy, and collaboration.

WHO WE ARE

The Rheumatology Nurses Society (RNS) is the only professional organization dedicated solely to the needs of nurses in all scopes of practice, from MAs to APPs working in rheumatology. Representing registered nurses, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and other healthcare professionals, RNS exists to advance excellence in rheumatology care through education, advocacy, and community.

Since our founding in 2007, RNS has grown into a leading provider of evidence-based education in rheumatology nursing. Through strategic programming, strong industry partnerships, and our accredited Learning Center, we offer accessible, relevant content designed to meet the evolving needs of the workforce, from bedside clinicians to national leaders.

Our members work across diverse settings, including private practices, academic medical centers, infusion clinics, and specialty hospitals. What unites them is a shared commitment to improving outcomes for patients living with rheumatic disease. RNS supports this commitment with free accredited and non-accredited education, networking opportunities, and grassroots advocacy efforts that shape the future of care.

As we look ahead to 2027, we remain focused on four strategic priorities:

- Empowering the workforce through clinical education, mentorship, and tools that support real-world practice;
- Driving impact through advocacy that protects patient access and strengthens provider autonomy;
- Fostering inclusive communities where members can connect, share knowledge, and grow as professionals;
- Partnering with industry leaders to co-create solutions that advance care and support the rheumatology ecosystem.

We invite you to join us in our mission to elevate the role of nurses and APPs in rheumatology and to shape the future of care, together.

VISION

To unite and elevate rheumatology nurses in all scopes of practice to deliver equitable, informed, and impactful care across all settings.
